TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Audley Green Shot and Instantly Killed by Julian Throckmorton Tuesday Morning.

Audley Green, aged 20 years, was shot and almost instantly killed by Julian Throckmorton about ten o'clock Tuesday morning, in the saloon of M. L. Woods, on Main street, between Seventh and Eighth.

Throckmorton shot five times with a hammerless Smith & Wesson pistol, every shot taking effect. After the first shot took effect Green did not utter a word, he slowly sank to the floor and expired in a few moments. Green and his brother, Blanton Green, occupy a room over the Woods saloon as sleeping apartments, and earlier in the day, Audley Green, came from his bedroom through a stairway to Main street. Seated in the doorway was Julian Throckmorton. It is said Green with a vile oath kicked Throckmorton and ejected him from the doorstep; that Green was told by a bystander that he should not have treated Throckmorton in that manner, and that he went and apologized.

Eye-witnesses vary in telling of the affair. In the main they agree that Throckmorton left after Green had kicked him and returned about 10 o'clock. He entered the saloon took a drink of water at the bar and walked into a rear room, shortly re-entered where Green was talking to J. R. Butler at the bar, and Ollie Starke, bartender, was near by. Throckmorton advanced and greeted Green as follows: "You s— of a b—, you kicked me," and commenced firing. Starke grappled with Throckmorton but could not secure the weapon in time to prevent the tragedy. After the shooting Throckmorton walked out of the saloon and surrendered to Jailor George W. Judy, who was passing on the opposite side of the street at the time.

Julian Throckmorton is about 35 years old, and the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Throckmorton, of South Main street. He is an industrious and agreeable young man when not in his cups and the deplorable affair is regretted. His mother, a most estimable woman, formerly a Miss Brooks, has been in poor health for some time and is now quite ill. She has not been told of her son's trouble, nor will she be, as it would only hasten her death which we understand cannot be far off from the condition she is now in.

Young Throckmorton was married in December 1899, to Miss Florence Current. She secured a divorce March 17, 1904. They have one son, Charles Throckmorton, Jr., aged six years.

Young Mr. Green was a son of Mr. Robert Green, and a brother of Mrs. Hamlet Sharp, of Maysville, Mrs. Henry Isgrig and Miss Edna Green, of Lexington, and Blanton Green, of Paris. His mother died when he was quite young and he was raised by his sister, Mrs. Sharp, and had but recently come here to from Maysville to live.

The funeral services were held at the grave in the Paris cemetery, Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30, conducted by Rev. Dr. E. H. Rutherford.

Little Frances Ann Wilson Dies.

Frances Ann, the bright and sweet little fourteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wilson, breathed her last on Tuesday morning, after short illness with inflammation of the bowels. Here just long enough to entwine herself around the hearts of parents and relatives with cords of steel, then to be taken is truly sad. But when we remember that "He who giveth, taketh away," we can only bow our heads in humble submission. The little rosebud that bloomed and faded in her earthly home is now in full and everlasting bloom in her Heavenly home, for has He not said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

The funeral services were held at the residence yesterday morning at 9:30, conducted by Rev. Dr. E. H. Rutherford, assisted by Elder Carey E. Morgan. The pall-bearers were: Dr. H. M. Yancy, Dr. C. G. Daugherty, Ford Brent, John Woodford.

SENSATION AT CARLISLE.

Jailor's Son Alleged to Have Hauled Liquor in the Sheriff's Wagon to the Local Option Town.

The Good Citizen's League, an anti-liquor organization of Carlisle, has called an indignation meeting of the citizens of Nicholas county at the court house in Carlisle next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of expressing their disapproval of the course pursued by various county officers in their failure to control the sale of liquors under the recent city law forbidding such sales.

The matter was precipitated by the seizure by the city officers of two barrels of whiskey in a wagon said to belong to the sheriff of that county and alleged to have been driven by a son of the jailor. The officers are accused of having full knowledge of the violations and of failing to take any steps to prevent violations, and the temperance people are much incensed at the statement that two of the county officers should seem to be helping the liquor people in their effort to evade the law. The thing that irritates them is the allegation that the jailor's son was driving the sheriff's team engaged in hauling whiskey to a blind tiger in a prohibition town. The whiskey was brought from Cynthiana and got into Carlisle at 1:20 a. m. Saturday.

A still later telegram from Carlisle says: "The citizens of Carlisle will hold their indignation meeting condemning the illegal traffic in liquor in local districts on Sunday, July 1, in the court house yard in Carlisle, County Jailor Kookendoffer, having refused the use of the court house for such purposes on Sunday. Feeling is very high."

May Force Him to Run.

The belief in New York political circles, despite denials, is that Roosevelt, by his attitude on the questions of monopolies and the tariff, has created a situation which may force him again to be the standard bearer of his party, especially in view of the Bryan boom.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Iowa, but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach." Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs or contagious disease to which the human system readily succumbs. Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures. The Peek-a-Boo Shirt Waist.
We can not see why some of the editors keep criticising the ladies' shirt waists. Let the dear things keep cool if they can. What's it to you? Now comes old man Bell, of the Georgetown Times, with the following:
"Ministers of the gospel who are looking into the peek-a-boo shirt waist with a view of exposing the same, are hereby informed that the exposure has already reached the limit."
Don't worry old man, the limit hasn't been reached, you know half a sleeve was taken off this season and the Lord only knows what will come off next season. Just give them a chance and probably you will live long enough to see the limit. It won't be long, that is, if the same advancement in shirt waist styles along this line is kept up. Saw wood and say nothing, just thank God every day that you are not a blind man.

We believe that a primary election, honestly conducted, is the fairest way to get the popular choice of the people between candidates, but do not think it wise or necessary to select candidates a year or more in advance of the regular election. Before the general election, one or more of the candidates nominated might die, or might do something to forfeit the confidence of his party, or there are other complications that could arise to cause trouble. The people should in some way try and put a stop to the politicians calling these primaries for their own selfish ends so far in advance of the regular election.

William Jennings Bryan.
It seems that some men's star of destiny is not destined to be eclipsed, and such a man is William Jennings Bryan. Beaten in 1896, beaten still worse in 1900, overlooked and relegated to the rear in 1904, he looms up in 1906 as the only man, or at least the most promising man Democracy can find to bear its standard in 1908.
The first call was from New York, that which in 1906 he called the enemy's country. Indiana, Illinois, Arkansas, each in turn, in State conventions assembled, has put itself on record as favoring him as the next candidate for the Presidency. Men who were gold Democrats in 1896 and 1900, and who were bitterly opposed to him, are now among those who are foremost in advocating his nomination. Cleveland thinks, well of him and many of the latter's former friends and managers have declared for the Nebraskan. A canvas of the Democratic members of Congress is said to have shown that a large majority regard him as the most available candidate. His strength is recognized by the Republicans and already some of them are saying that Roosevelt is the man with which to oppose him.
In the fight of 1908, we predict a united Democracy for Bryan against a disrupted Republican party for Roosevelt. With this state of affairs we expect to sweep this country from "cen to cen."

Mr. Trimble Gets Paris a Public Building.
Paris at last gets a public building, and it was the bill offered by the Hon. South Trimble that landed the building. "As far back as we can remember, every Congressman that ever went to Washington tried to get a public building for Paris, and there have been distinguished men to represent the Ashland district but they all failed, it was left to the Hon. South Trimble to turn the trick. The end came on Monday when the Omnibus Public Building bill was reported to the House, which included an appropriation for a $40,000 building for Paris. All honor due to Mr. Trimble. The passage of the bill is enough to show that Mr. Trimble, although not a brilliant orator as some of his predecessors, yet when it comes to doing the real work and getting his bills through Congress, he is the peer of any of them. He has done something that our former Congressmen have failed to do, besides getting Paris this building he has put through several other bills that will be of great benefit to the farmers. Let the honor fall to Mr. Trimble, for no one gave him any assistance. There was no delegation from the Paris Commercial Club in Washington to lend him any assistance, like there were from the Winchester Commercial Club behind Congressman Hopkins, from that district, who landed a $45,000 building for Winchester. Mr. Trimble was alone in his fight, and we repeat, all honor due him.

Our Live Merchants.
Paris is noted for its progressive merchants. They do not carry goods over from one season to another. The regular July clearance sales are always noted for the great bargains to be had in summer goods. Our merchants run out their stock during that month, and it is surprising how low goods can be had for cash. It is the great event of the year. See their big advertisements.

NO CONTEST

But a Plain Business Proposition.

Chance to Make $50 in Gold.

Every Young Lady in Bourbon Eligible.

People are always crying "keep the money at home," and to help carry out this motto the Bourbon News is going to make a plain business proposition to the young ladies of Bourbon county, whereby they can take a trip to any place they desire and at the same time assist in pushing a home enterprise along without any scrambling contest whatever and also at the same time everybody will get value received for their investment. This is no contest where there will be any disappointments. No contest where some young lady will run in the lead until the last minute and then the one who has been running last to come in and defeat her by having her friends to buy enough coupons or subscribe for enough papers, to make her win over the one that has led throughout the contest. Our proposition is no fake, but simply a plain business proposition and is as follows:

Any young lady of Bourbon county who will bring to the Bourbon News office on or before July 15th, 1906, 75 cash subscribers we will give her $50 in gold, to be used as she likes.

Any old subscriber who is in arrears and pays up to date and for one year in advance to any of the young ladies who accept our offer will be counted in their list of new ones.

This proposition is open to every young lady in the county, and just as soon as you hand in the seventy-five names with the cash subscriptions, the $50 in gold will be handed to you.

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. C. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

Q In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. Q We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. Q We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. Q New trial bottles, 25c.; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

DISHONEST MORTAR.

Japanese Expert Reports on Destruction of Houses in San Francisco.

"Dishonest mortar—a corrupt conglomeration of sea sand and lime—was responsible for nearly all the earthquake damage in San Francisco," says Dr. T. Nakamura, professor of architecture of the Imperial University of Tokio, and one of the most distinguished members of the committee dispatched to San Francisco by the Japanese government to investigate the effects of the trembler and fire. After investigations covering a period of several weeks, Dr. Nakamura has completed his labors and has sailed to report to his government.

"I find," said Dr. Nakamura yesterday, "that much of the damage to San Francisco from the earthquake was due to poor mortar and faulty construction, and the greater portion of the damage to the class A buildings by fire was the result of misguided use of hollow tiling and so called fireblocks, instead of concrete. It is an easy matter, I have found, to design a building that will be not only earthquake proof, but practically fireproof."

Who Is Expected to Contribute
Some More Cox-Marcum History.

Information has been given out by a well-known citizen of Jackson that John Abner and John Smith, now in jail at that place, charged with the killing of Dr. B. D. Cox, are on the verge of making a confession and telling all they know in regard to the alleged plots formed on the life of Cox, Marcum and Cockrill.

At the time Abner was brought to Winchester as a witness for Mrs. Marcum, he told Messrs. Byrd and Jouett and C. J. Bronston just what he knew regarding the plots to kill Jim Marcum, but said that it would be impossible for him to tell the story on the witness stand at that time for fear of being killed. When placed on the stand he refused to talk and was not pressed by counsel. Now that all the men feared by Abner are in the toils of the law it is said he is willing to take the witness stand and tell of the plots.

INJURIES PROVED FATAL.

J. W. Lancaster Died at Good Samaritan Hospital Without Regaining Consciousness.

J. W. Lancaster, who was injured in a runaway accident near Indian Fields last Saturday, died Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington.

Mrs. Lancaster, who was with him at the time of the accident, and who was badly injured, cannot be removed from Oil Springs, where she was taken, and was unable to attend the funeral.

Mr. Lancaster's injuries were about the head. He was taken to the Hospital Sunday in an unconscious condition from which he never recovered.

An operation was performed on the skull and a huge clot of blood removed from the brain. This, however, failed to give relief and he gradually grew weaker until his death Wednesday morning.

Mr. Lancaster was a native of Lexington, but for years has had an office in this city, where he did an extensive real estate business. He was considered one of our best and most successful business men. He was enterprising and energetic, and in business relations was recognized as a man of honor and integrity.

He was about sixty years of age, and was a son of Jephtha Lancaster, of Lexington, who is in his 89th year. He is survived by six brothers, Messrs. G. W., Charles J., E. C., John L., Henry and H. C. Lancaster, and four sisters, Mrs. Nannie Floya, Mrs. Sep Lloyd, Mrs. Hallie Elliott, and Miss Maggie Lancaster.

Funeral services will be held at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. R. B. Elliott, 164 North Limestone street, Lexington, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. I. J. Spencer officiating.

The pall-bearers at will be Frank Graff, John B. Northcott, Ben Perry, R. K. McCarney, P. I. McCarthy, Henry Power, Julius Herrick and Dr. H. H. Roberts, of Lexington.

BIRTHS.

—Born, on Tuesday night, to the wife of Mr. Harry Clay, a seven pound daughter—Nell Turney.

An ex-Bourbon Dead.

Tobias Bealert, who died at Lexington, was a native of Bourbon, being a son of the late John Bealert who died a few years ago, aged eighty-six years. His mother, Mrs. Lizzie Bealert, lives near Bethlehem in this county, and is in her eighty-third year. Mr. Bealert conducted a general store at Hutchinson, this county, shortly after the Civil War. He is survived by his wife, nee Blanche Boone, and three daughters, Mrs. Grant, Buchanan and Misses Florence and Mary Bealert, all of Lexington, and three brothers, John and Sherman Bealert, of this county, and Ray Bealert, of Missouri, and four sister, Mrs. John Neal, Mrs. Henry Mitchell, and Misses Lizzie and Nannie Bealert, of this county.

Dollar Wheat.

There is a movement among the farmers of the country to get $1 per bushel for their wheat. The American Society of Equity endorses the movement and instructs its members to keep their wheat off the market until the market wants it bad enough to pay $1 for it. To hold it, the Society favors stacking, which not only preserves the grain but makes better wheat. Members of the Society to a man, in the wheat growing States, are pledging themselves to hold for $1, the price set by the National Union.

DEATH VALLEY CACTI

THE PLANTS THAT BLOOM IN THE SUN SCORCHED DESERT.

Hundreds of Acres of a Scene of Almost Indescribable Beauty In the Midst of Mile on Mile of Barren and Deadly Sand Flats.

Not half the plants of Death valley are known to scientists; most of those that are known are little more than names and will never be more until the prying arm of the railroad shall have laid bare some of the secrets of this vale of Hinom.

Most beautiful and most plenty on the desert are the cacti, and the rapidly withered stalks put out blossoms under the touch of the rains is wonderful.

The largest and showiest blossom of them all grows on a short, stock stem which during the summer does not seem to have life enough to produce the magnificent waxy flowers, which are often as much as five inches across.

A cactus much larger than this—the barrel cactus—has a very small and insignificant bloom, while the tiniest of all, a low, creeping, round stemmed, jointed growth, has an immense pink flower, beautiful as any orchid and rivaling the fairest rose of Persia in its odor.

Unfortunately the names of these rare species are not well known, and the commoner varieties, which are also found on the coast slope, bear no such gorgeous array of blossoms. Old friends greet the traveler on the rim of Death valley too. There is the cholla (pronounced cho-gah), which, while large and many branched, produces few or no flowers, reproducing itself by "slipping," as our grandmothers were wont to say of their choice geraniums. Wherever an unusually long branch falls to the ground it seems almost to work its way into the earth, so soon do the shifting sands cover it. Then a process of rooting takes place, so that soon an entirely separate plant comes up a few feet from the parent. So it is that great beds of cacti are formed throughout the desert.

One noticeable thing about all the plants in and around Death valley is that they grow low to the ground, for no living thing can stand against the simooms that sweep this level floor for 200 miles on over into the Nevada desert. These low growers protect themselves from the drifting sand in a wonderfully ingenious manner. When the plant first breaks from the ground it comes up not in one stem, as do the taller cacti, but in many tiny, branching stalks, so that what solid earth and rocks there are among the sand clouds fall between these stalks and form a sort of openwork barricade. Against this the sand drifts, but does not choke out the life of the plant. The winds of the desert always blow from the same direction, so that the barricade is always available, whether it be a rain, wind or sand storm that is blowing.

Another beautiful bloomer of this far desert raises a foot long shaft, four pointed and like no other flower stalk in the world. On it are clustered great waxy blooms two or three inches across, perfumed with all the sweet scents of Cyprus and the Ind and ranging from palest golden white to deepest purple.

From right to left of the narrow valley, more than 400 feet below the level of the sea, 250 miles away, these beds of cacti stretch. In winter and spring, when they are all ablaze with flame, they seem like some great cloth of gold to the traveler pausing on the rim of the Funeral range or dipping down with his burro through Windy gap. These beds are sometimes large, covering acres in dense patches. In other places they are small and stunted, so that the traveler meets with scattered clumps of the thorny shrubs miles before he comes upon traces of the dead alkaline lakes that mark the edge of the valley.

Other plants than cacti are scarce in Death valley, but two species of mesquite grow from one end of the valley to the other, both blooming profusely and adding their quota of odor to the air. When they seed, the beans are gathered by the Putes and ground up for flour.

All in all, there are doubtless hundreds of acres of cacti in this one part of the California desert, and its beauty when in bloom is something indescribable, especially when seen in the midst of mile on mile of barren sand flats.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Fork.

It is about 1,900 years ago since the fork made its appearance in Europe. In 99 A. D. a son of the doge Pietro Orsola had wedded in Venice the Byzantine Princess Argilla, who produced at the wedding breakfast a silver fork and gold spoon. Then the high Venetian families followed suit, and these martyrs to fashion pricked their lips with the new instrument. The fork prospered, however, and spread over Italy. In 1379 it had traveled as far as France, and in 1608 a traveler brought it direct to England.

Do You Want to Know

What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of medicines of known composition. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery," the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and out-spoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all harping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver, and Bowels. Do not forget the "pill habit," but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried, always in favor.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY. In copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away $50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 3 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE FAIR

The Long and Short of It

The long and the short of it is this—that The Fair pleases and satisfies the people better than any other store of its kind in Paris. Assign a part of it to low prices, another part to good, honest merchandise, another to variety and extensiveness of assortments, another to helpful, accommodating store service—lump all these together and you have a pretty insight into the reason.

The liveliness and alertness of The Fair also has something to do with it. This is always a brisk, busy place. There is always "something doing" here. New things are constantly being shown. New and tempting offerings are constantly being made. No matter how often you visit The Fair you will always find something new and interesting.

Here, for instance, are some items that ought to mean something to not a few of those who are reading this announcement.

FOR CONGRESS.

Judge B. F. Hill, Henry County, Announces His Candidacy—A Concise Statement.

To the Democracy of the Seventh Congressional District—Greeting:

The early date for the convention named by the Committee precludes a personal canvass of the district and compels me to announce my candidacy for a seat in the 60th Congress by means of this circular. I deem it proper to set my views of certain vital questions of government before the people at the same time I ask consideration. Being direct in method, I will waste no time in circumlocution.

In common with Democrats everywhere, I favor a thorough revision of our tariff laws. The revelations of the past two years have made it so plain that our tariff taxes are unjust, favoring the few at the expense of the many, that hundreds of thousands of Republicans are turning to the Democratic doctrine of "tariff for revenue only." The more the question has been considered the clearer it has become that protection is the source of commercial corruption. By means of a protective tariff our manufacturers have been freed from foreign competition. The first thing done after freedom from competition was combination to maintain a level of prices as high as the tariff tax would permit. After combination came consolidation that profits might be made as great as possible. Protection, combination, consolidation and the American people were absolutely at the mercy of the conscienceless money-grabbers that have made the past decade a saturnalia of crime as carried on in the name of business, such as is without parallel in the world's annals. The only cure is to lay the axe at the root of the tree, and cut protection up root and branch.

Working hand in glove with tariff-bred trusts, the common carriers of the country, pursuing the same policy of combination and consolidation, have built up gigantic combinations, that have it in their power to pillage and plunder the people to the full measure of their greedy desire. So mercilessly have they exercised this power that the whole nation has been brought under tribute. The demands of the people for relief have been trifled with and baffled until the burden on the one hand and the lawless insolence on the other, can be no longer endured. I am in favor of stringent regulation, and if regulation fails, as efforts to relieve the people from the exactions of the strong so often fail, then I favor public ownership of public utilities.

The free navigation of the rivers and inland water ways afford the people the only means of competing with the railroads. I am in favor of liberal appropriations to improve and open up to navigation all practical streams and water ways.

I am in favor of the people, through an act of Congress, asking the Supreme Court to review its decision declaring an income tax unconstitutional, and, if the Court finds again that the first two decisions on the question were erroneous, then I am in favor of a constitutional amendment permitting the people to impose an income tax to the end that wealth may bear its fair share of the burden of the government that protects it.

Notwithstanding the immediate necessity for opening the mints of the Government to the coinage of silver on an equality with gold has passed away, because of the unexpected and unlooked for increase of the output of gold, nevertheless, I held to the quantitative theory of money, rather than the qualitative, and assert that the demand for free coinage made by the Democracy in 1895 and 1900, was sane and sound, and I want here to express my admiration for and allegiance to that matchless leader of those two great battles, William Jennings Bryan.

The National Banking law is so framed that it favors unduly a certain class of citizens at the expense of all others. I am in favor of a revision of the National Bank law, and stripping from it every feature of class favoritism. Especially I oppose the present system of depositing government money in National Banks to be lent to the people at high rates of interest, thus allowing the rich to grow richer from no effort of their own, but from the pernicious principle of paternalism. I am opposed to class legislation of every kind and character.

I am in favor of a law permitting and requiring the Postal Service to carry parcels as express companies now carry them. In nearly all civilized countries the parcels post has been established, resulting in greater convenience to the public at less than one-third the cost. Government is made for the convenience and use of the people, and I am in favor of the people using it for their advantage and protection.

Governments are organized by people to do for them what they cannot do for themselves. The revelation of the methods of business pursued by the various branches of trade, that have recently been made, demand that Congress pass stringent laws compelling such publicity of methods and means as will enable the people to protect themselves from fraud whether it be of service or substance. The revelations of railroad methods, of insurance methods, of packing methods, of the methods by which the people are tricked and swindled on every hand, demand that laws be passed giving the widest and fullest information to the public that uses or buys. I favor all such legislation.

The Democratic party has since its formation asserted as one of its fundamental vital principles the doctrine of local self-government. I want here distinctly and emphatically indorse that doctrine. I want to emphasize my indorsement of it, for I want to be distinctly understood on that question: I am in favor of repealing so much of the internal law as permit or authorize the government to take taxes from vendors of intoxicating liquors in Local Option or Prohibition territory. After the people by a fair vote, have decided to prohibit the sale of liquor in their midst, I favor such amendments to the present national laws as will make every man who disregards the local law an offender against the national law. If the people prohibit the business among them, I want the National Government to regard the wishes of that locality and likewise prohibit it. I want to make this statement as emphatic as possible, for in event I should be chosen to represent my people in the National Council, I would use every energy to secure such legislation.

Lastly, I want to say that I am in full and earnest sympathy with the people in their fight with organized and predatory wealth. I am opposed to trusts and all business combinations made for the purpose of exacting unjust and extortionate prices. I, with fair men, deplore the low state of public morals that permits the paid lobbyist, and am opposed to the use of money or any other thing of value to secure either an election or legislation. If these views, briefly but frankly expressed, meet your approval, I would appreciate it as the greatest possible favor, if you will help me disseminate them, and further ask that you attend your county convention, called to meet at your county seat on the 10th of July, and do what you can to secure instructions for me to the district convention to meet at Frankfort, July 12, 1906.

Respectfully,
B. F. HILL.

Smittie's Band to Furnish Music for Paris Fair.

The contract has been closed with Bandmaster Smittie, of Cincinnati, for his celebrated band to furnish the music for the Paris Fair, September 4-8.

This splendid band will be remembered for its fine concerts, martial music and public drills during the recent Masonic Conclave here.

No stronger attraction could be secured for the first fair of the Bourbon County Agricultural Society than Smittie and his band.

A Good Scheme.

President H. K. Taylor, of Kentucky Wesleyan College, Winchester, has been authorized by the Board of Education to go into the field and raise $50,000 with which to establish a fund, the income to be used to educate young men preparing for the ministry and preachers' sons. It is proposed to loan a worthy and needy young student $10 per year without interest, the principal to be paid back when the borrower shall have the ability to do so.

Railroad Police.

Under the provision of the new law, which became effective on June 11th last, the railroad police, appointed by the Governor are to be compensated for their services by the railroad corporation engaging them. It gives bond for the conduct of its police, and they are empowered with authority of a sheriff or constable in making of arrest on railroad trains or about railroad stations. This week Governor Bechtel appointed half a dozen of these policemen for the C. & O. road which were selected by that road.

Good Year for Doctors.

One of the largest department stores in Pittsburg was crippled badly the other day by the resignation of thirty-six young women, all of whom said they were to be married this month. At Cleveland, Ohio, one hundred young women declined re-election as teachers in the public schools giving as a reason that they were to be married before the fall session began.

Storm Does Damage.

A heavy rain passed over Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county, Wednesday, washing land a great deal and doing considerable damage. Corn and tobacco on the hillside land were completely washed out. The rain fell for a time in sheets and was the hardest in years. Lightning did considerable damage to trees, and killed four cows belonging to David George. A man at work in the field near the race track was struck, but will recover.

Finds Law Ambiguous.

Attorney W. C. G. Hobbs, of Lexington, has returned from a visit to Frankfort, where he went to examine in detail the new state revenue law. Mr. Hobbs says that many of the provisions of the law are ambiguous and their meaning uncertain. He desires to get a ruling from either the State Auditor or Attorney General, but he says he found the officials as much puzzled as other people. "Everybody is in a tangle on the subject," says Mr. Hobbs, "and the new law in certain of its provisions is giving trouble all over the State. The citizens are sending in for explanations and rulings, but so far the officials have not been able to clear up the ambiguities."
